

Prepositions: Review

1. Ken is always nice _____ everyone.
2. A: How long do you need to keep the grammar book you borrowed _____ me?
B: I'd like to keep it until I'm ready _____ the exam next week.
3. A: Why weren't you more polite _____ Adam's friend?
B: Because he kept staring _____ me all evening. He made me nervous.
4. A: We're going to beat you in the soccer game on Sunday.
B: No way. Two of your players are equal _____ only one of ours.
A: Oh yeah? We'll see.
5. Stop pouring! My cup is already full _____ water.
6. May I please borrow some money _____ you? I'm thirsty _____ a soda, and we're walking right _____ the vending machine.
7. A: Do you believe _____ astrology?
B: I'm really not familiar _____ it.
8. A: Mike, I really admire you _____ your ability to remember names. Will you help me _____ the introductions?
B: Sure. Emma, let me introduce you _____ Pam, Kathy, Anna, and Tina.
9. Ask Allan _____ help you. He knows something _____ the subjunctive form.
10. Something's the matter _____ Doug. He feels dizzy.
11. Do whatever you want. It doesn't matter _____ me.
12. Look _____ those clouds. It's going to rain.
13. Are you looking forward _____ your trip to Ireland?
14. A: Does this knapsack belong _____ you?
B: Yes. Where did you find it? I looked everywhere _____ it.
15. I woke up frightened after I dreamed _____ falling off the roof of a building.
16. Tomorrow I'm going to ask my father _____ a ride to school.
17. Tomorrow I'm going to ask my father _____ his work because I'm not sure what he does _____ the office all day long.